

GRIDSHOCK:

A FILM ABOUT SEX TRAFFICKING IN IOWA

Documentary & Discussion with Filmmaker Vanessa McNeal

Vanessa McNeal, a graduate of Iowa State, will screen her fourth and most recent film, a documentary exposing the hidden and disturbing reality behind sex trafficking in Iowa. The film features survivors of sex trafficking, local and federal law enforcement, advocates, politicians, and a recovering sex addict. What you think you know about sex trafficking will be challenged.

Monday, 08 Apr 2019 at 7:00 pm – Great Hall, Memorial Union

Cosponsored By:

- ACCESS – Assault Care Center Extending Shelter & Support
- Green Dot at Iowa State
- Human Development and Family Studies
- ISU Network Against Human Trafficking
- Inter-Residence Hall Association – IRHA
- Iowa Network against Human Trafficking and Slavery
- Iowa State University Police
- Margaret Sloss Center for Women and Gender Equity
- Teens Against Human Trafficking
- Committee on Lectures (funding by Student Government)